

MOE Partnerships in Education Office (PEO) -- Initiatives and resources for parents and schools

The PSG Conference was held on 12th Apr. At this Conference, Mr Heng, Minister for Education, shared four ways for every parent to be a supportive partner to bring out the best in every child. Click here to read more about our Minister's speech and the PSG Conference.

Video on Parent Support Groups How parents can work with schools.	Encourage parents to be involved in your school's PSG through this video which features PSGs' involvement in school activities and programmes.
Enhanced Parents in Education Mobile App Parents can get quick updates on education-related information!	Parents can now input their children's level of study, and receive updates customised to their profile. There is a new poll feature which provides improved interactivity. A new calendar function gives a quick overview of school holidays and various education-related events! You may wish to download the Enhanced Parents in Education Mobile App – iOS or Android.
Subject-Based Banding at Primary 4 Brochure	Subject-Based Banding was introduced as a refinement to the streaming process to help each child realise his potential, based on his interests and strengths. This latest Subject-Based Banding brochure aimed at Pri 4 was distributed to schools in early April. Click here to download the brochure and find out more.
Post-Secondary Education Brochure Useful info on the multiple pathways after secondary school education	Our education system offers students of different abilities and strengths multiple pathways to success after their secondary school education. Young Singaporeans may choose from a wide array of post-secondary options: JCCI, polytechnics, ITE, private art institutions, as well as public and private universities. This Post-Secondary Education brochure was distributed to schools in end April. Click here to download it and find out more about each pathway.